The following assessment report has been generated from the responses provided by selected members of this individual's work group, supervisors, peers, subordinates, and internal or external customers. The specific content and findings of this report should be used only to benchmark, determine developmental needs, and track the progress of such development. These results must not be used as the sole basis for selection decisions, or as the basis for any disciplinary action.

This GAP Analysis individual feedback report has been prepared specifically for you. The information contained in this report is based on information about your leadership skills and performance collected on the assessment questionnaire you and your Supervisor recently completed.

Competency Summary

The ratings you and your Supervisor provided for each item in the competency were averaged together to give an average score for each competency. Your average score and your Supervisor's average score for each competency is listed. These scores were then averaged together to determine an "Average All" score. The "Average All" scores for each competency were used in producing the following portion of the Gap Analysis Report.

You will notice that most competencies on the report have a bar on the summary part of the report. This bar shows the range of item scores you received for that competency.

The "Average All" score for each competency is represented on the following charts by a thick black line and the score itself is listed in the Average All Raters column.

If there is no bar, only a black vertical line, then there was no variance in the ratings - you received the same rating on all items.

GAP Range

The Gap range section of the report shows you how your own evaluation of your performance compares to that given by your Supervisor. Your ratings are identified by the black circle and your Supervisor's ratings are identified by the white square.

If you rated yourself significantly higher (greater than one point on the scale) than your Supervisor rated you, then a bold black line connects the two ratings and calls your attention to a potential blind spot - an area in which you may be overrating your own performance.

If you rated yourself significantly lower (greater than one point on the scale) than your Supervisor rated you, then a dotted gray line connects the two ratings and calls your attention to a potential hidden strength - an area in which you may be underrating your own performance.

Rating Scale

You and your Supervisor were asked to respond using the following six-point rating scale. 1-Almost Never, 2-Not Usually, 3-Sometimes, 4-Often 5-Usually, 6-Almost Always

Importance Ranking

Ranking

You and your Supervisor, were asked to rate the importance of each of the competencies assessed by the Edge Gap Analysis. You were asked to specify which competencies were most important to your job.

If both you and your Supervisor selected the competency as most important, it was determined to be critical to your job.

If either you or your Supervisor selected the competency to be most important and the other selected it to be important, it was determined to be very important.

If neither you nor your Supervisor selected the competency to be most important, it was determined to be important.

Importance/Performance

This shows the correlation between the importance ranking of the competency and the ratings of your performance in the same area. This section can help you prioritize any training and developmental opportunities and highlight any strengths.

Any competency rated critical or very important but low in performance (less than 5 on a scale of 1 to 6) can be considered an immediate developmental opportunity and should probably be the focus of additional training and development efforts.

Those competencies rated high in performance (5 or greater on a scale of 1 to 6) can be considered strengths and could be areas in which you might consider mentoring others.

Any competency rated important and low in performance (less than 5 on a scale of 1 to 6) can be considered a developmental opportunity. Additional training and development efforts may be needed.

Competency	Average Rating (from summary)	Your Rating	Your Supervisor's Rating	Ranking	Importance / Performance

Knowledge / Performance Grid

The Knowledge Performance Grid utilizes a four quadrant grid to show the correlation between the knowledge you have demonstrated on a particular competency and the performance rating given on the GAP Analysis assessment.

The measurement of knowledge comes from the results of the knowledge-based assessment you completed.

Any competencies shown in gray italic text were not measured by a knowledge-based assessment. Any competencies shown in bold text were rated with an importance of Very Important or Critical on the Gap Analysis assessment.

Knowledge Improvement Opportunity Low Knowledge / High Performance Knowledge less than 70th percent Performance greater than or equal to 5 on a scale of (1-6)	Strength High Knowledge / High Performance Knowledge greater than or equal to 70th percent Performance greater than or equal to 5 on a scale of (1-6)

Strengths / Needs Report

Of the behavioral items assessed, the Strengths / needs report lists your 10 highest-rated behaviors and your 10 lowest-rated behaviors.

Each listed strength or need includes the competency, the behavioral statement and the item number as it was on the questionnaire. A graph depiction of the overall average rating your received for that item is included.

The bar indicates the range of scores given on that item by you and your Supervisor.

The vertical black line indicates the average of all ratings. The average rating score is also listed to the left of the graph.

If there is no bar, only a black vertical line, then there was not variance in the ratings - you received the same rating on all items.

Written Comments

The written comments have been provided by you and your Supervisor to provide further feedback, observations and suggestions for your continued development. They are presented as they have been received, without editing or alterations being made.

Things this person does that should be continued:

- Continue to work with the new employees to get them up to speed on items.

What could this person do to be more effective?

- Be more consistent on providing weekly reports in a timely fashion - others need these to complete their tasks.

What does this person do that should be stopped?

No comments given.

Action Plan

Use the following pages to create your own personalized action plan for further development. This action plan should include steps to build on the strengths you have identified, and to further develop areas of need.

As you reach your objectives and complete these plans, turn to a new strength or need and continue to develop your skills and abilities.

1. State your objective (what do you want to do?) regarding the competency.
2. Plan appropriate actions, learning experiences, and exercises to further develop this area.
3. Identify other people and resources that you can turn to for assistance in developing this area.
4. Finally, set specific target dates or milestones for completion of these development activities.

You can find resources to aid you in interpreting these results and determining your next steps in our Leadership Development Center, online at:
